

YOUTH CHARTER

You have a right to keep information about you private. You only have to tell people what you really want them to know.

Could this be YOU?

Ali is 13. He is using the internet in his bedroom when a message pops up on his screen: 'Hey I'm Max and I'm 11 years old. I'm looking for a friend in England. Click here to send me an email.'

What would you do?

Ali knows that his email address is private. He doesn't share it with strangers. He ignores the message on screen and clicks on the x in the top-right corner to close it down.

Top Tips

You don't have to tell anyone your ASL (Age Sex Location)

If you are suspicious about someone that you meet on the internet then click on the report abuse button.

Be careful who you accept as a friend on facebook / bebo.

Treat your password like your toothbrush, don't share it with anyone.

Don't just give out your mobile number on line, someone could be trying to get your credit.
